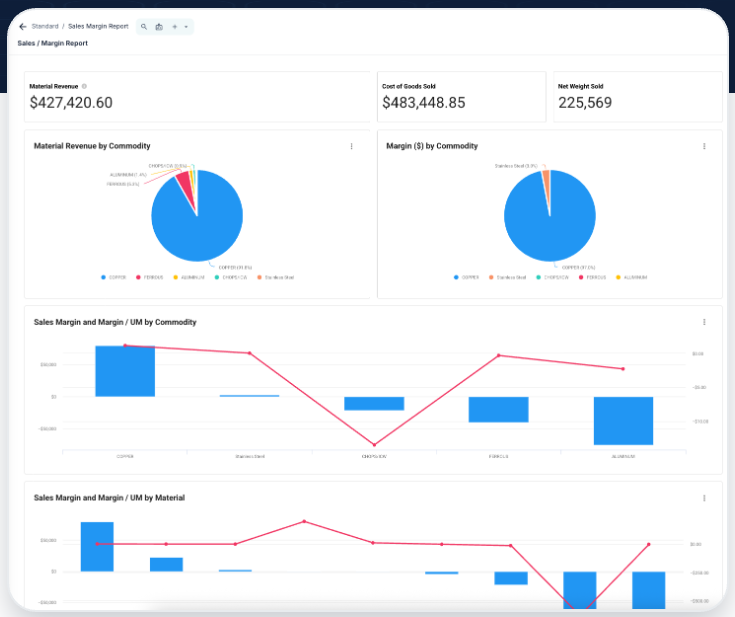
ReSPARK

SALES@RESPARK.COM

Reporting & Analytics

Real-time, role-based reporting embedded directly into your daily workflows — not bolted on after the fact.



Overview

ReSpark treats reporting as a core operational function, not an afterthought. Every standard report is built on the same live data set as your custom reports, so the numbers always match. From the receiving report that your scale manager checks every morning to the inventory reconciliation that your controller reviews at month-end, reports are embedded directly into the workflows of the people who use them. Summary metrics surface insights at a glance, and drill-down capability takes you all the way to the individual ticket.

One data set

standard and custom reports always match

Every role scale operator, buyer, and leadership views built in

Proactive, Not Reactive

Standard reports like the negative inventory dashboard and fulfillment tracker don't just show data — they surface action items your team can execute on immediately.

Summary to Detail in Clicks

Every report follows the same pattern: summary tiles up top, data visualizations in the middle, and full transactional detail at the bottom — filterable and exportable.

Every Role, Every Report

Scale operators see daily throughput. Buyers see customer trends and pricing. Leadership sees cross-location P&L and inventory turnover. Same data, right view.

Custom Without Complexity

Build custom reports on live data with drag-and-drop field selection — no SQL, no BI tool, no waiting for someone else to pull the numbers.

Features

- Standard reports across purchases, sales, inventory, and dispatch
- Custom report builder with live data and configurable fields
- Summary tiles, visualizations, and drill-down detail in every report
- Role-based views for scale operators, buyers, sales, operations, and leadership
- Filters by date, customer, material, commodity, status, and location
- Scheduled exports to spreadsheet or BI tools
- Inventory reconciliation, receiving, dispatch, and P&L reports included

Benefits

- Reports that tell you what to do next, not just what happened
- Right data for every role, no IT or month-end wait
- Harmonized standard and custom data — no conflicting numbers
- Drill from summary to transaction in clicks

Get started with our all-in-one suite today by requesting a demo at respark.com